By Paul Hardin

Russell O. Morrow will be re-nominated state representative without opposition. Judge John L. Moore of the Criminal Court, Judge R. P. Robbins of the County Court, our County Commissioner, Doyle Crocker, School Superintendent John L. Leonard, Circuit Judge E. C. Chalmers, County Solicitor Errol Robbeck, Tax Assessor Jimmy Owens, the whole group of them will be returned to office without opposition. Well, that proves something or other and I'm inclined to believe that it proves for one thing that these gentlemen have thousands of friends in Palm Beach county who certainly believe they're OK for the jobs. And what seems to be county-wide approval I'd like to add my little word of commendation to each and every member of this unopposed group of candidates. Just keep doing a good job!

During the past week end I made a trip into northmost parts of the state. I arrived in Miami at four o'clock on the day afternoon and left at 10:30 Monday morning. I heard plenty of talk about coming. I made it a point to visit some of the way places to gather a little word of commendation to each and every member of this unopposed group of candidates. Just keep doing a good job!

Hail Storm Plays Havoc With Crops In Glades Section

Storm Hit Belle Glade Area Last Thursday Afternoon

As if rain, wind and frost had not done sufficient damage to the crops in the Belle Glade section, the past season, further damage was done last Thursday afternoon when an intense hail storm arrived to do much damage.

The storm reached from the bend south of town northward to the Glades farms and over into the Knight-Stuckey farm lands along the back canal, and east as far as the edge of the Mide bend. The hail storm was spotty as it fell as far west as Moore Haven. The hail came so thick and large that it was a nuisance for humans to venture out of protection. Some hail was larger than an English walnut, and the ground was covered in some of the fields with several inches of ice formation, to say nothing of the flood of water that descended during the intense electrical disturbances.

Hail riddled cabbage in some places into ribbons, celery was damaged somewhat while the vegetables, especially peas, were hard hit. Thurmond Knight had an 80 acre tract of peas, just ready for harvest, practically ruined, thus sustaining a heavy loss.

Pahoekes non brought up buckets full of the hail picked up in the gutters at Belle Glade, and had them on exhibit.

Thurmond Knight Is Rote President

At the regular meeting of the Pahoekes Rotary club yesterday the annual election of officers was held and Thurmond Knight was chosen president for the ensuing year. Mr. Knight is thoroughly qualified for the new position and has taken an interest in the Rotary and its principles since he became a member of the club several years ago. He has attended many district conferences and plans to attend the International Convention in Havana.

Thousands Listen To Whitehair Make His Opening Speech

Supporters From All Of Florida Visit Daytona Beach

Daytona Beach, Mar. 28. Fortly making his campaign here last week, Francis P. Whitehair, candidate for governor, drew a crowd that jammed Peabody Auditorium, despite a driving rain that necessitated a last minute switch of location from the open air band shell.

Friends and supporters from every section of the state joined Whitehair's followers to make up an audience of close to 3,500 persons who wildly greeted their candidate as he mounted the rostrum. Practically every county in the state was represented in the gathering and the demonstration, from the standpoint of popularity, was the largest in the tone of a National Convention.

Something must be done to save the standard of Florida's government to keep pace with the growing demands of modern civilization and the rapid strides made by our private industries," Whitehair said.

Opening his talk in modulated tones and with sure cadence and force, he fearlessly pointed to numerous weaknesses that exist in our present governmental operations. Courageously facing the state's social and economic problems, he asked:

"Why is it that the average income per working family in this state is only $485 per year?"

"Why is it that the average income of our school teachers is only $70 a month?"

"Why is it that there are over 300 white school teachers in this state that receive only approximately $600 a year?"

"Why is it that after spending over $300,000,000 on our roads in the last few years, we do not have a single completed arterial modern highway system in our state?"

"Why is it that our citrus industry has virtually collapsed, and approximately 15,000 of our small growers, once leaders in the world in poverty and distress?"

Turning to our social problems, he asked:

"Why is it that we do not have adequate housing facilities for our mental and insane cases?"

"Why is it that there are over 185,000 cases of hookworm in our state today, a disease that is easy to control and easy to prevent, but which leaves a mark for life upon the victims that are afflicted with it?"

"Why is it that our educational system has standards among the lowest in the nation?"

"Why is it that there are 102,000 Floridians suffering from malaria, 7,600 from tuberculosis, and our rate for the so-called 'venereal' diseases is the highest in the nation?"

"Why is it we have over 8,000 unemployed men in this state?" (continued on page 3)

Skating Rink Open With Huge Crowds

The new Pahoekes rink, built by Leo Maxwell, and operated under license by Frank Collier, formerly of Belle Glade, opened on Sunday night, when a company of skaters and spectators numbering around 400 were in attendance. The crowd came from all away as far as Ft. Myers, Okeechobee, Ft. Pierce, Moore Haven, Clewiston, LaBelle and other towns.

This rink is one of the finest anywhere in Florida and is provided with an excellent skating surface and the latest equipment is all new and modern.

Down on one end genial Julian Chandler, and his corps of assistants, preside at a neat and attractive refreshment counter, where food and refreshments are sold.

Glads Being Sent To Market Daily

The frost effect on the "glads" at the Kirchhoff garden in Port Mayaca has now been overcome, and a crew of some 70 cutters and packers are now employed gathering the "glads." There are around 900 acres of land planted to this popular flower and harvest will continue until the latter part of May. Mr. Kirchhoff is a veteran grower of this flower and is planning for even larger acreage for the next season. Several express car loads of blooms go out to Port Mayaca each day for northern markets.

Mrs. James Loses Insurance Suit

Because Rollie Leo James, Pahoekes, failed to charge the beneficiary in his insurance policy, the court held he was killed in an automobile accident near Moore Haven October, 1938, the widow, Mrs. Sarah E. James, lost her suit in Palm Beach county circuit court to collect the insurance. He had named his mother as beneficiary and testimony showed she had $4,500 been paid to her. Mrs. Geneva James, West Palm Beach, under another policy for $3,750, the mother, is seeking collection but the policy is being contested by the insurance company.

Pahoekes Seeks Aid Of WPA To Finance Revamping Intake

Made In Immediate Future

The Pahoekes City Council has an important project to finance but it does not have the required $100,000.00 on hand. So that body, has directed its attorney, Thaddeus Whidbee, to prepare papers to make application to the WPA for this amount, so it can go forward with the waterworks intake improvement project. This work must start at once, as the Army Engineers will soon have the reclamation work machinery in on that location.

Council directed Mayor John A. Delany to issue his election proclamation for the municipal election to be held on May 1st, at which time a Mayor, a clerk, chief of police and three councilmen will be elected to office.

Announcement was made that George Brockway had completed the port survey and compilation of data for the project, and that a copy of such report had been forwarded to the Army Engineers' Headquarters at Washington.

Two new street lights were directed placed on First street, one at the new rink corner and the other at the Barfield road intersection.

Clerk Walker stated that tax income had been slow since the start of this year, owing to unfavorable crop conditions.

Mizzell G. Platt, In Race For Registrar

Mizzell G. Platt, West Palm Beach, last week announced his candidacy for supervisor of registration. Mr. Platt was a visitor in the Glades this week where he contacted many friends who have been in the district since he moved to the county in 1934 and moved to Inverness in 1938. He spent several years in the Indian reservation where he was engaged in the cattle business before he moved to West Palm Beach. For 12 years he has been superintendent of the county and bridges for the county. During the past five years he has been connected with the Florida Memorial Park. He is a graduate of Southern College, member of the American Legion, 40 and 8.

Kennel Club Stages Annual Derby Soon

The Palm Beach Derby annual greyhound racing club of local greyhound racing will be staged by the Palm Beach Kennel Club, Thursday, April 4.

This event has for years been the highlight of the annual meet and this year has an additional interest at it will see eight of the best greyhounds ever to be entered in this feature matched on the Derby night in the only 7-1/2 mile distance race run this year. This course, approximately 2-1/2 longer than the Everglades course, is said to be the longest greyhound race in Florida; most of the other Derby events being run over the 5-1/2 mile course.

Four entries have already qualified for this great race, being the first four to finish in the first place in the "sprint" held here last Tuesday, March 26. Pansy, Pansy, Texas Tech, Grand Son and Blue Helen finished in that order to gain a place in the Derby.

On the 5-1/2 mile race, the first four to finish in the first place were: Pansy, Pansy, Texas Tech, Grand Son and Blue Helen finished in that order to gain a place in the Derby.

Florida's WPA roll now has about 12,000 persons listed, or about 5,000 more than the roll for other states of Florida's class, he explained. The cut is expected to reduce the rolls about 20 percent.

Visiting Editor Is Guest Speaker At Commerce Meeting

Lauderdale Man Brings Interesting Message From Coast

While there was not a great deal of important business transacted at the monthly business meeting of the Pahoekes-Canal Point Chamber of Commerce, it did have good results and there are some pretty projects in view for the summer.

Mayor John Delany of the Harbor Commerce reported that he had appeared at the Waterways hearing at Belle Glade, and submitted a brief in behalf of the project. That he had been given assurances from Colonel Watkins that a public hearing would be held in Pahoekes at a date not far away to take up this project. He said that the Port of Palm Beach commissioners had been in contact with the Army Engineers in connection with the construction of a dock or wharf at Pahoekes, but had been discouraged by the Engineers against such action until after the dike work is completed.

Report was made that the Taylor syndicate of Tallahassee would be interested in Pahoekes. The new hotel project and that would on this hotel proposition was in a most favorable condition.

The guest speaker of the evening was Mr. J. W. Lauderdale, editor of the Ft. Lauderdale Daily News, who has had extensive experience as war correspondent in the Ethiopia and Spanish wars, and a special writer of press associations. He brought a good word message from Ft. Lauderdale and said a nice letter from the city of half of this new, flourishing east coast metropolis. He stressed the fact that there is a natural good feeling between the Glades and the entire Glades section, which should be cultivated for the benefit of the entire section, and all in behalf in building business from the Glades for the port and the business houses of his city.

Mr. Warnock stressed some of the factors at which the lake region possessed. He said that he was interested in the things new to them, and the lake waters, the fishing and boating, the sight of the growing rice fields and peaking houses, the establishment of attractive tourist camps. Also the fishing which would be of import to tourists from the western states and those from the New England states, who have wearied of the salt water fishing.

To Build Ramp At Canal Point Dike

Word has been given to the Palm Beach County Commissioners by the Army Engineers, that the Army's intent to construct a ramp at Canal Point to build a bridge highway to the levee bank, across the Florida East Coast right of way. This improvement will be made no expense to the county provided the latter gets the concession for the roadway over the railway right of way.

This ramp will be provided to permit tourists and others to drive onto the dike in order to visit the lake, but the dike will not be open for public passage, at least, until after the improvements are all completed.

The type of rock now being dug and placed on the dike improvement, tends to solidify and become almost like concrete, so in time this dike may be a spectacular scenic drive between Canal Point and Pahoekes.

WPA Will Cut Work Roll April 1

Jacksonville, March 28. — Roy Schröder, State WPA Administrator, said this week that Florida rolls would be drastically reduced by April 1.

Florida, he said, is overdue for a cut in the rolls. He expects word from Washington to cut the rolls any day. The state has been permitted to retain a great many of the rolls of the many outstanding projects.

Florida's WPA roll now has about 12,000 persons listed, or about 5,000 more than the roll for other states of Florida's class, he explained. The cut is expected to reduce the rolls about 20 percent.

THE SPRING FEVER MYTH

Spring fever There ain't no such animal! At least that is what Dr. Hobart A. Reimann, professor of medicine at Jefferson Medical college says.

"It's all a myth—a state of mind," he insists. "When the weather gets warm, people begin to think of going fishing and going on vacations. But they can't because they have to keep working. So they feel against the restraint and become restless. That's all spring fever is."

Well, maybe so, but that's not what our grandmothers used to think when they gave us great quantities of sulphur and molasses, and whether it was in the mind or not, the sulphur and molasses always proved a remarkable cure for whatever ailed us.

That tired listless feeling was banished overnight by grandmothers' generous doses. Nowadays, however, folks accomplish the same result by going fishing.

"The feeling you describe as spring fever," another doctor declares, "is probably due to the fact that the body has become accustomed to cold weather all winter and so suddenly is called upon to make adjustments to warm weather. Probably the nerves controlling the blood vessels don't make the adjustment without upsetting you a bit."

Evidently it's a kind of thawing out process that naturally comes in the spring. But now that is has been definitely established that spring fever is just another ancient shibboleth, all in the mind, as it were, perhaps we also have an explanation for another peculiarity of mankind, best summed up by the poet who said, "In spring a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of what the girls have been thinking about all winter."

Whitehair Plans Economic Order Of Things For Florida

Candidate Says Our Problems Are Social and Economic

Tallahassee, March 28.—A new and modern social and economic order for Florida to bring our governmental services about the last pace set by private industry in the State is the theme song of Francis P. Whitehair's campaign for Governor.

The Tallahassee attorney has addressed more than 12,000 persons since he opened his campaign at the Daytona Beach Municipal auditorium before an enthusiastic and packed house last Thursday night.

"Florida's problems are fundamentally social and economic," the candidate said.

"The truth is that Florida's government is weak. Florida's salvation and hope for the future can be found only in a united effort by all interests and all parts of our great state to put aside selfishness and greed and to practice strict economy and sound business principles."

After leaving Daytona Thursday night Whitehair drove to Jacksonville where he spoke to a group of more than 100 young business men Friday. The next day he spoke to two large crowds in Pensacola. Monday he addressed the Orlando Junior Chamber of Commerce and Tuesday night a big Tallahassee crowd heard him. Whitehair listed Florida's economic problems as the low average income per family of between $483 and $529, the paltry $70 a month average income of our teachers and the fact that more than 360 white teachers receive only approximately $600 a year; a poor highway system despite the expenditure of $300,000,000 in the past few years; the sorry plight of our formerly prosperous citrus industry.

He said something must be done about adequate housing facilities for mental and insane cases; the high rate of loss of children at birth; the 136,000 cases of hookworm in Florida; the low standards of our educational system; adequate assistance for our citizens on the sunset side of life; and the 8,000 needy elderly people who live without any assistance whatever at present; the 102,000 Floridians suffering from malaria; 5,000 from tuberculosis; and the fact that social diseases in Florida are more prevalent than anywhere in the Nation; our high rate of maternal mortality and the death of so many children in their first year of life; and the fact that one-half of Florida's teachers remain in service less than two years because of low pay and political interference.

Whitehair said, "My first effort will be to give the people of Florida better government and more public service without increasing the total tax load."

"I have no doubt of the eventual greatness of our State of Florida—the Florida of 35,000,000 acres and 1,600,000 citizens. I plan and intend for all of Florida.

"What we must have to create our greater Florida, our united Florida—is an unflinching love for all Florida; intense loyalty to its institutions; and to its ideals; eagerness to defend it to all enemies; and a desire to secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and to posterity," he concluded.

Car Thief Caught Within 20 Minutes

On Tuesday night, a man by the name of Conrad Payberg, who has been employed in Belle Glade, broke into the garage of the Glades Chevrolet company there, and proceeded to steal a brand new 1940 model machine from the floor, and make away with it. When the theft was discovered word was sent along the highways out of the city, and Lee Rawls, highway patrolman, Pahokee, received the word and started toward Belle Glade. At Sam's has he got out and inspected the cars there and found the stolen property, and arrested the man who had driven it there. The man was under arrest within 20 minutes after the call went out.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay.

Well, the qualifying deadline has come and gone. At last we know definitely who's who and what's what. Eleven candidates for Governor—a surprise candidate qualifying for the last minute, Frederick Van Roy of Crystal River.

In the Senate race we have a field of six, the dark horse being Bernard Macfadden, 71-year old publisher of Miami Beach. Left at the post was Horace Wells, Tampa candidate, stricken with appendicitis on her way to qualify.

Lined up at the wire in the race for Delegates to the National Convention, we find a field of 136. For the office of Attorney General there are six; for Comptroller, three; for Treasurer, three; for Railroad Commissioner, three; ten candidates will compete for the office of National Democratic Committeeman left vacant by Harry Wells, with three seeking the office of Horace K. Wells as National Democratic Committeewoman.

With this record-smashing array of eager support seekers, those few remaining humble citizens who cast the so-called "sacred ballots" have mighty important personages. It is the open season on "Boycott Voters" and from now through May 28th they'll have a flock of hounds continually baying at their heels.

Sound trucks will be tearing over the state like ants over a picnic lunch. The humble housewife, bathing her breakfast dishes, will be disturbed by the raucous tones of the announcer shouting "Fuller

Warren will speak at the Court House Square at 10 A. M., followed by a screechy recruiting of "Scatterbrain". Later in the day her favorite radio serial will be interrupted to make way for a paid political announcement which informs her that "The Honorable B. P. Paty will prattle political phooey in the Village Green at 11 o'clock."

At the General Store, the town's only Independent Merchant sits chewing his pencil trying to figure out how to make both ends meet, only to have his over-burdened mind bombarded with the screaming announcement that "Speer and Holland will make his political prayer" in the Town Hall at high noon.

And while this continual bombardment is more or less hard on the nerves and tends to break up the daily routine, it is only the beginning. Formenting in the minds of ambitious aspirants to day are wild ideas, new and untried methods of attack designed to catch the poor helpless citizen by his guard and lure him from his lair.

Burton Schoepf, Townsend white hope, who up to now has been in hibernation, come out of hiding last week to offer all comers an opportunity to invest in his candidacy, at the nominal rate of a dollar a throw. Each investor receives a pretty stock certificate, all dated, signed and sealed, which carries the following redemption clause:

"Many of our folks never have the opportunity of visiting the Governor's Mansion and the Capitol in Tallahassee. When elected, this certificate will entitle the holder to have lunch even as my personal guest at the Mansion."

Sincerely your friend,

One of the best "Watchdogs of the People's Money" Florida ever had.

Let's send a man to Washington who knows HOW TO SAVE. Let's send a man who knows not only the SCIENCE OF GOVERNMENT but also the BUSINESS OF GOVERNMENT . . . a man whose RECORD proves that he knows how to combine GOOD GOVERNMENT with SOUND ECONOMY.

Let's send a man to the U. S. Senate who has "Horse Sense". A man whose rich store of plain, down-to-earth straight-forwardness and honesty will win added respect for the State that sent him there.

LET'S SEND FRED P. CONE!

needy, elderly people on the waiting list, if your people, who are not receiving any assistance from the state?"

Following his summing up of vital state needs, as discussed in these and other questions, he turned to a discussion of his faith in the state and its people and his confidence that with able leadership and united effort such handicaps could be overcome.

Warning to his subject, Whitehair said: "One man cannot do this job alone, it calls for a united effort."

He pledged himself to work for better educational facilities, and greater advantages for Florida's youth; protection and a living wage for school teachers; a full nine months' school term with payment of teachers on a 12-month basis.

He pointed to the necessity of destroying red tape and political interference in the operation of the Citrus Commission and the State Road Department, and said he would endeavor during his term of office to construct at least one modern arterial highway in the state.

Termining the present treatment of our needy aged on par with the practice of savages who beat their elderly tribe members to death, he promised to give their problems first consideration and from existing revenues endeavor to provide for them on a basis in line with their requirements.

"I still have my first commitment to make," Whitehair said. "If I am elected your governor, I will not take office with every state job mortgaged in advance, but I shall call upon industrial and civic leaders, upon business and labor, to aid me in finding the best qualified man or woman for each post."

Although speaking less than an hour, Whitehair made a deep impression on his listeners, many of whom were hearing him speak for the first time. At the close of his talk the crowd surged forward to meet him personally and express their well wishes.

What Are We Going To Do About This?

Of recent date, inspectors from the U. S. and State Boards of Health have been making inspection of the living and health conditions in the lake region, and have made a most dramatic and unfavorable report of their findings. The report cites that more than 500 places now unfit for habitation in Canal Point, Pahokee, and Belle Glade are unfit for humans to use. That some of the field laborers are living in most filthy and unsanitary surroundings and conditions were brought out.

Kennel Club Stages—

elimination in a special Derby consolation match to be held on April 2.

Closing date for the meet at the Palm Beach Kennel Club has been announced for April 10 and since this leaves only 13 more racing nights, many exciting events are being staged nightly as the kennels enter their best dogs in an effort to make the most of these last few days.

Some of the largest crowds ever to gather at the local track have been in attendance in recent weeks and the heavier mutual play has been reflected when several large daily double pay offs were collected by local fans. This last week saw one for $21.80, one for $217.20 and one for $183.00 while the majority of the quinellas have remained above the $50.00.

Lyndowners Sign Petitions

Harold Rosenberg, secretary of the Pahoee Drainage district, reports that petitions have been generously signed by land owners in the west unit, looking forward to issuance of new bonds in the sum of $120,000 for district improvements, only a very few having refused to sign the petition. The Commissioners are holding their monthly meeting at 10 o'clock this Friday, at which time further action will be taken on the proposed improvement project, and a date may be set for the holding of a bond improvement issue election.

Gledhills Have Guests From North

Judge and Mrs. John M. Gledhill, had a pleasant surprise Tuesday day when Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kunz, Mrs. Helen Snavely, and Charles Currier of Toledo, Ohio, drove into their home for a 24 hour visit. Mrs. Kunz is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gledhill. The party had made a tour of west Florida, and came to Pahoee for their brief visit, and then returned by way of the east coast, St. Augustine, Atlanta, Chattanooga, Mammoth Cave, Cincinnati and northward. Mr. Currier is a contractor in Toledo, and was very much interested in the dike work and the machinery he found operating on the farms and in the packing houses. Mr. Kunz is an electric assembler at the Overland motor plant, and reports that his concern has the largest production program in its history for the coming season.

Nathan Mayo, Commissioner of Agriculture, urged Floridians this week to "Eat More Eggs." Reduction of the huge surplus will materially aid Florida's 300,000 poultrymen, he said.

Paty Campaigns In Lake Farming Area

In a series of addresses in communities around the shores of Lake Okechobee Wednesday, B. F. Paty, candidate for governor, discussed his 24 point platform for the development of Florida's abundant natural resources. He stressed old age pensions, revision of excessive freight rates, establishment of subsistence homesteads for the relief of the unemployed, a state advertising bureau, tax reform and highways.

Florida agriculture and commerce, Mr. Paty declared, cannot attain the full measure of development until the state is placed on a freight rate parity with other sections of the country.

"Freight rates on products of Florida origin," he said, "are 15 percent higher than elsewhere in the south. But the appalling fact is that southern rates, outside Florida, are 30 percent higher than in other sections of the country. Hence we see Florida is penalized by nearly 50 percent higher rates than other sections of this nation and I think government should busy itself about a matter of such importance rather than spend so much time with the political bunk and tommyrot that seems to control the transaction of the state's business."

"I will give my full assurance," Mr. Paty declared, "that I will do all within my power to see the Florida's responsibility is fulfilled."

Leaving Canal Point immediately after his address, Mr. Paty drove to Orlando where he attended the midwinter convention of the Florida Educational Association. He is scheduled to address a rally in Bayfront Park in Miami Saturday night.

Young Ladies Hold Evangelistic Services

The Misses Katherine Danforth and Elizabeth Pfifer, from the Columbia Bible College at Columbia, S. C., arrived in Pahokee on Saturday afternoon.

These young evangelists came to conduct a ten day service at the Methodist church under the auspices of the Methodist Church Youth Crusade. Miss Danforth is the speaker, and a very able and gracious one, and Miss Pfifer is the musician, and the two make a very efficient Christian worker team.

The evening services have been very well attended this week, and some most convincing addresses have been given. The women have also conducted outside group work among the schools and young people of the city.

Salvatore Attends State School Meet

Carmen Salvatore, joined the other two members of the county school board, in attendance at the ninth annual convention of the State School Board Association in session at Orlando, Tuesday and Wednesday.

NELLER HAS VISITORS

Dr. J. R. Neller of the Everglades Experiment station, had the pleasure of entertaining over Easter, his former associate Dr. A. B. Blair, of the New Jersey Experiment station, and Dr. Wilson, former president of Haverford school, in Philadelphia. Both the visitors were highly impressed with the Glades section and especially at the work being done at the Everglades station, over which Dr. Neller is the presiding authority.

Because of Hillsborough county's heavy registration, county commissioners will need to buy 40 new voting machines instead of 30 originally ordered. Supervisor of Registration Dekle advised county attorneys last week.

Will Be Held In Pahokee Woman's Club Building; Home Economist In Charge

Many Valuable Prizes To Be Given By Merchants To Those Attending

The Everglades News Cooking School is scheduled to open for a two day session next Thursday afternoon at 2 p. m. Another session will be held at the same hour on Friday afternoon. The place is the Pahokee Woman's club building.

Miss Rice Weds Myers Fountain

At the conclusion of the Easter morning sermon at the Pahokee Methodist church last Sunday morning, a short pause occurred, and then Mrs. Dorothy Graham, at the piano, began the beautiful strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, and during its rendition Miss Catherine Rice, accompanied by Miss Josephine Armstrong, came down the center aisle to the altar, where they were joined by Myers Fountain and Cliff Barnes.

In the beautiful ring ceremony of the Methodist church, Rev. Fred L. Martin joined Miss Rice and Mr. Fountain in marriage in the presence of the large audience. The bride was given in a beautiful white ensemble and her maid of honor, Miss Armstrong, in a blue ensemble.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Rice, Pahokee born and reared, and is one of the most popular young women of the town, as she possesses a most amiable personality, is talented in music and has been active in church and social affairs. Since her graduation from school she has been employed in the Blackmont store. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fountain of Palham, Ga., and is an employee of the Southern Bell Telephone company at West Palm Beach, in which city he has established a home for his bride.

Other merchants who are co-operating are: Armstrong Luby Farm, Alfaz Creamery, Prince Theatre, Glades Mercantile company, Chandler's Bank of Pahokee, Pahokee Lumber company, Rainbow Beauty Shop, Kahn's Department store, Pahokee Dry Goods company, Lapp's, Jordan Jewelry Store, and Puckett's Grocery.

State Marts Great Aid Says Legislator

Jacksonville, March 28.—Walter P. Fuller, state representative from Pinellas County, in his Newsletter this week, announced that because of state sponsored and financed markets, Florida meat and vegetable sales had reached an all-time high in 1939.

"This is concrete evidence of the worth of the State Farmers' Markets," said William L. Wilson, under whose direction the state operated system has done much to relieve vegetable growers of difficulties surrounding the marketing of truck and farm produce.

Florida attractions such as Silver Springs, Ocala; McKee Jungle Gardens, Vero Beach; Marineland and the Fountain of Youth, St. Augustine; Cypress Gardens, Winter Haven; Rainbow Springs, Dunellon and Lewis' Old Plantation and Turpentine Still near Brooksville, all report the best attendance in years. Over 2,000 people visited Silver Springs in one day recently.

QUAKER GIRL

A Quaker girl who made good is Elizabeth Reiler (above). She was right from the heart of the good Quaker Colony in Richmond, Indiana, and Quakerish Swarthmore. She has been seen in several Broadway stage productions, and is at present bettering her mark as one of the leads in the popular musical, "Young Doctor Malone," which is being shown at the Blue network at 11:15 a.m., EST.

"The Hunchback Of Notre Dame" To Be Shown In Glades

Scheduled For Belle Glade Sunday and Monday, Pahokee Tuesday

From the magic haunts of Hollywood, "The Hunchback Of Notre Dame" emerges upon the theatre-going world with a challenge to the bigness of all films that have come before. This giant film comes to the Everglades theatre Sunday and Monday and to the Prince theatre Tuesday.

A year in preparation, three full months in the filming, "The Hunchback" taxed the resources of the motion picture industry in its quest for principals, extras, make-up men, wardrobe experts, camera and sound technicians, and other specialty workers who were required for the achievement.

Played against a vast canvas of spectacular settings colored with the rich pageantry of medieval Paris, the primitive human passions of the great Victor Hugo novel are depicted in a mounting series of crises.

Many of the individual sequences are acclaimed as especially noteworthy: the trial of poor Gringoire before the beggars in the sinister and eerie Court of Miracles; the trial of the gypsy girl, Esmeralda, before the stern and unfeeling judges; Quasimodo's frenzied ride upon the great bells of the cathedral tower; the stirring attack on Notre Dame by the mob of beggars; the public flogging of the luckless hunchback; Quasimodo's startling rescue of the gypsy girl from the hangman; and his terrible revenge upon the cause of her martyrdom, Count Frollo.

These scenes, filmed in the huge reproductions of the Notre Dame cathedral, of the Sainte Chapelle, the Palais de Justice and the other spacious settings created for the picture, mark "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" as a completely powerful interpretation of the great French classic. As the millions of readers of the novel will recall, the plot concerns events during the struggle between the populace and the nobles in the reign of King Louis XI, with the deformed and pitiable Quasimodo, the deaf bell-ringer of Notre Dame, as the story's chief protagonist. When a gypsy girl has a romantic interlude with a soldier at a festival, the jealous King's High Justice, Frollo, mortally hates the man, and has the girl arrested for the murder and condemned to death. As she is about to be hanged in front of the cathedral, Quasimodo, who has fallen in love with her, snatches her from the noose and takes her into the cathedral, where she is safe under the right of sanctuary. Holding off the clamoring mob who are besieging the cathedral, Quasimodo also has to grapple with Frollo who tries to seize the girl. This dramatic action is rated about the most powerful sequence the screen has ever presented.

Charles Laughton tops the notable cast as Quasimodo in a magnificent characterization, supported by Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Thomas Mitchell, Maureen O'Brien (the gypsy girl), Edmund O'Brien, Alan Marshal, Walter Hampden, and Katharine Alexander. William Dieterle directed the RKO Radio spectacle.

Cone Economy Puts Extra Amount Into County Treasuries

Decrease In Cost Of Operating Race Tracks Made By Gov.

Tallahassee, Mar. 28. (FNS)—Under the watchful eye of Governor Fred Cone, the State Racing Commission has curtailed expenses to the point that the pari-mutual machines of the state's racing plants for 1939 have returned $26,863.76 to each county as a share of the season's betting on the horses and dogs.

This is a substantial increase over the $16,794.99 allotted each county in 1936, when the Cone administration took over the affairs of the state. The Commission's report shows that in 1936, the mutual play totaled $38,826,132 and the state received $1,469,639.23 from the state's bettors. From this amount the racing commission spent $315,350.74 as operating expenses. The mutual betting the state's "take" and each county's share increased year by year, while the expenses of the Commission decreased, until 1939, when the mutual machines clicked to the tune of $55,272,416, resulting in $2,000,989.55 as the state's share. The past season the Commission operated on $187,289.45, a decrease of nearly 50 per cent over the 1936 figure.

It must be remembered that the state gets 12 percent of monies bet or won at the race tracks.

But, Governor Cone's strict rule of economy in state government have reflected themselves in tangible results—actual profit, and certainly gain in most instances in the operation of the state's various departments.

Doss Tabb Makes "Tintypes" Column

The Hurricane, publication of the University of Miami, carried an interesting article last week about Doss Tabb, Pahokee high school graduate and a senior in the university. The article was in the "Tintypes" column and is reprinted here:

... aspires to hold a coaching position some day... get married... when the right girl comes along... describes his ideal girl as brunette, 5' 4 1/2", around 112 pounds... insists that she have a good sun-tan... and not have dimples or flat feet... dates the "sweet and simple" type most of the time... likes hunting, fishing, aqua-planing, golf, and a fast and furious game of backgammon... once drank a glass of pineapple juice with a rat in it on a dare... challenges anyone to a bug, flea, insect, or pet eating contest... picks Guy Lombardo as his favorite orchestra... hates jitterbugs... history exams... people who like to show off, and girl's basketball games... enjoys the square-dances with genuine hill-billy orchestras... gets a big kick out of taking his mother to dances... states that his ultimate ambition is to cash a ticket on a dog... favors shirts hanging out... never wears a suit if he can help it... approves of people who are quiet and "sympathetic."

Grandma's Cakes Made Faster

Innovations in the kitchen have sped up preparation of those cakes "like grandma used to make," but we won't vouch those of today taste better. The two-quart glass bottle at right provides the housewife with more milk at lower costs. Alongside is an electric mixer which beats eggs and mixes flour and salt more efficiently than is possible by hand. The new bottle takes up but little more room in the refrigerator than the familiar one-quart bottle.

First Political Meeting Is Held

The first political gathering in the Pahokee-Canal Point sector for the primary campaign was staged by Messrs. M. E. George and A. Q. Howell at a grove on the Poland land, on Friday night, which was attended by around 100 interested in politics. Prior to the speaking of candidates, a liberal helping of chicken pilau and trimmings found rest under the bells of the audience.

A. Q. Howell acted as master of ceremonies, and Tom Nobles generously offered his cane to the speakers to steady their stage fright. Those who made brief talks were Sheriff "H" Lawrence, County Solicitor Errol Roebuck, County Commissioner Doyle Crocker, Carmen Salvatore and H. L. Speer, candidates for Board of Public Instruction; Mack Todd, candidate for Tax Collector; Albert Gant for constable; E. O. Murphy and Haywood Baxter, candidates for chief of police of Pahokee. "Pop" Sears announced his withdrawal from the constable's race.

A recent ruling of the Supreme Court prevents absentee voting and in the coming elections those who are away from their voting precincts will not be permitted to cast absentee ballots.

Open Headquarters For Democracy Group

Miami, March 28.—The Florida Congress of Democracy established permanent headquarters here Saturday with the formal opening of a suite of offices in Congress Building. It was announced by the Rev. Richard E. Evans, executive vice-president of the organization. Miami was chosen for permanent headquarters by the group because the 1940 convention will be held there, Evans said. The purpose of the Congress is to teach young Americans the ideals of democracy as practiced and advocated by the founders of this country.

Dade McClelland, a former resident of Canal Point, but who has been located in San Jose, Calif., for the past five years, ended a 3500 mile motor trip, which he drove into the home of his brother "Demp" McClelland, for a two weeks visit. Dade likes his western home and is doing very well in his line of business but does admit that the Glades has made wonderful progress during the past five years. Mr. McClelland holds an airplane license from the government and does considerable flying in the west.

SKIMPING IN WRONG PLACES
OFTEN COSTLY IN LONG RUN

CUTTING COSTS ON FUNDAMENTALS MEANS ENDLESS TROUBLE AND EXPENSE IN YEARS TO COME

CRACKED WALLS—Often caused by uneven settling of footings and foundation. Skimping on footings in either size or concrete mix is poor economy.

Where is it wise to cut costs in your new home and where is it wise to buy the best? This is a problem that most home builders face more than once during construction. And what is the answer? It is a problem that every home-owner must settle to the best of his ability with the help of his contractor and architect.

Replacement Big Factor
There is one general principle that can be set down here, however. Briefly, it is this. Any part of your house that is not practical to replace should have the best in construction and materials. By this, we mean such items as footings and foundation, timber skeleton and frame work, windows and window frames, which are really part of the house frame, concealed ducts and wiring. All these things must last the life of the house.

Wiser to Wait
It is wiser to wait for some of the attractive furnishings and fixtures until more money is available, rather than to skimp on

CREAKY FLOORS—Very often the result of skimping on size of floor joists. Another example of the wrong place to cut costs.

DRAFTY WINDOWS—Result of poor fitting and cheap construction. A few dollars extra spent for precision built windows and frames would save enough in fuel costs to pay for light extra cost.

fundamental parts of a house which will only mean costly repairs, excessive heating bills and disgust and discomfort in years to come. Remember: if you can't replace them, make them good.

State Board Plans Beautification—Of Florida Highways

Would Make Roadways More Beautiful For Northern Visitors

Beautification of the State's highways is one of the objectives of the Florida State Planning Board, and that there is great room for this improvement is readily agreed to not only by the citizens of this State but by the thousands upon thousands of tourists who annually travel our roadways.

Reference is not made to the actual road construction, as it is a well established fact that some of Florida's highways, when it comes to actual roadway, rank with the finest in the country.

But there is much to be accomplished relative to the appearance of the right-of-way. The attractiveness of our highways constantly deteriorates. Private roadside uses, which the highway development encourages, frequently destroy the natural scenic beauty of the highways and obscure the landscape which would be visible from the road. A right-of-way 200 feet from the center line of the highway on either side should be left open for natural and artificial beautification purposes.

New highway construction outside the public reservation has become synonymous with the defacing of the scenic resources in the area traversed. Few indeed are the travelers who would not prefer open views of rural Florida unadorned by billboards, gaudy gas stations, "hot dog" stands, beer parlors, eating places, auto camps, and all the parasitic roadside enterprises which break out like an unwanted rash upon the face of the land.

Our tourists, as well as our citizens, have the right to expect not only adequate facilities for transportation but also the pleasure of travel from proximity to attractive rural landscapes, free from distraction of flanking developments. Private-owned roadside enterprises are usually unattractive in appearance and too often completely obscure the countryside beyond. The problem becomes critical near the approaches to cities and larger towns where all who enter or leave the community are forced to pass through a blighted area of rural slums.

Florida is rich in her natural beauty. When a highway passes through scenic areas these areas should be left in their natural state, instead of being cleared out to serve the purpose of commercialism.

Beautification of highways includes leveling shoulders and eliminating deep ditches and sharp inclines. All steep slopes should be cut so that the rain will not cause erosion and that the slopes may hold turf. Deep ditches should be relayed and widened to eliminate hazards as well as to prevent further erosion and improve appearance. Leveling of the grading terrain on either side of the pavement will enhance the appearance of the right-of-way and make practical the maintenance of the area.

When there is no natural growth along the right-of-way, trees and shrubs should be planted and they should be native to the section traversed by the particular highway. For example, highways in certain sections of the State would be lined with the Palm tree, while the Live Oak would predominate in Northwest Florida, and various other species in other parts of the State.

Florida has abundant resources for this beautification plan. Nature has provided them, but until the public and the laws of the State demand the removal of the roadside parasites, erected for commercial purposes, the beauties provided by nature will continue to be for a great part unenjoyed and unseen.

To Hold Contest For Photo Fans

Orlando, March 28.—Amateur photographers from throughout central Florida have been invited to enter the second Annual Amateur Photo contest sponsored by the Sanlando Springs Tropical Park. The contest will close on April 15.

The Sanlando management has pointed out that the 100-acre park was never so resplendent with blooms as at present. The Indian colony at the park will lend a new subject for the photographers, posing in the park's most colorful spots, or demonstrating the making of handwoven baskets. Many cash prizes have been offered the winners.

FLORAL GARDENS
The Anderson floral gardens on Bacom Point road are now coming into their prime and are a very interesting place to visit.

STRAIGHT FROM PARIS comes the Anny Blatt design for this hand-crocheted blouse worn by Elsie Hitz. Notice the tucked bodice, if you please! It's very easy to make, too—Elsie finished her blouse in two weeks at "Ellen Randolph" broadcast rehearsals. No wonder she's a crochet enthusiast.

Materials needed are just nine big balls of shaded black and white mercerized crochet cotton and a steel hook.

"MAIN STREET GIRL"

The management of the Prince and Everglades Theatres have just announced they have booked "Main Street Girl," to be shown at the Everglades Theatre, Belle Glade, at 11:00 p. m. Monday, April 1, and at the Prince Theatre, Pahokee, at 11:00 p. m. Tuesday, April 2.

The story the picture tells is the life of a girl who is a white slave racket and exposes vice in large parts that thrives today in every part of the United States. This picture tells its story in a vivid manner with an exceptional cast of movie stars that makes it an outstanding picture in its class. There will be no advance in admission prices and children under 16 will not be admitted.

MEMORIAL SERVICE

Thomas Ellis Benton Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy will have charge of the ceremonies commemorating the Confederate Memorial day at Woodlawn cemetery at West Palm Beach on April 26th, at 2 p. m. On this occasion a memorial monument to the Confederate soldiers will be unveiled and dedicated, with Attorney B. F. Pate usually the address.

FLOWER SHOW

The annual Flower Show of the West Palm Beach Garden Club will be held at the National Guard Armory on Lake Avenue and Park Place, in West Palm Beach, March 30, from 3 p. m. to 9 p. m., and on March 31, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

EASTER SERVICE

Services at the Canal Point Baptist church on Easter morning were well attended and the pastor, Rev. S. B. Jordan, delivered a discourse appropriate to the Easter celebration event. The choir rendered a beautiful anthem.

TURKEY SUPPER

The Woodmen of the World lodge at Canal Point is staging a turkey supper at its hall on the night of April 17th, which will also be featured by a big political rally. All candidates will be given the privilege to speak. Profits from the supper will be applied on meeting purchase agreements on the camp's new home.
